THE HUNTRESS.

EDUCATION—The main pillar which sustains the Temple of Liberty.—JEFFERSON.

VOL. VII. WASHINGTON CITY, (D. C.) NOVEMBER 25 1843. NO. XIII—Whole Number 370,

THE HUNTRESS

WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

At $2 dollars and 50 cents per annum.

BY

MRS. ANNE ROYALL.

At the corner of North B, and third St Capitol Hill.

SELECTED TALES,

THE ORDEAL;
OR,
THE TRIUMPH OF NATURAL AFFECTION.

BY A LADY OF MARYLAND.

'I shall certainly never forgive him; on that I am determined,' said Mrs. Walsingham, as she folded up a letter she had just received from her only son.

'Of course not, my dear friend,' said her companion. (a young lady of demure aspect, and of that age which Byron has pronounced to be of all ages the most uncertain) 'a due regard to your own character for consistency, and your duty to society, alike demand that you should not suffer so flagrant an instance of disobedience tc pass unpunished.

'And yet Rebecca, he is my only child, and it is hard to resolve never to see him again.'

'It may be hard, but it is nevertheless your duty, and I am sure you will not shtink from performing it. Filial disobedience is a crime of the darkest hue, and which should be frowned upon by all respectable people.

'But in Henry's case there are so many extenuating circumstances, you know this match was planned by his poor dear father, and that although I had never seen the young lady, I did not oppose it till I became acquainted with you, my love, and felt how much it would add to my happiness to have you become my daughter.

'And to increase your happiness I would have overcome my repugnance to marriage, though Heaven knows the sacrifice would have been a most painful one.

'I appreciate your affection, my dear Rebecca; and it makes my son's conduct in refusing to give up a childish engagement for my sake, appear more inexcusable. No, I am determined I will never see either him or the foolish girl he has made hiswife, Mrs Walsingham without another glance consigned to the flames the letter which had given rise to the above conversation.

Henry Walsingham was the only son of a gentleman of high respectability and of considerable talent. Mr. Walsingham had been bred to the bar, but having married a wealthy Southern heiress, he had abandoned his profession and retired to a beautiful estate he possessed in the neighborhood of Richmond. It was however, the first wish of his heart that his only son should become a distinguished lawyer, and accordingly after completing his collegiate studies, Henry had been placed with a professional gentleman—an early friend of his father. Mr. Longford was a widower, with an only daughter, whose beauty and amiability soon attached the regards of her father's pupil. An uninterrupted intercourse of several years produced a strong mutual attachment, which was encouraged by both fathers—& a day was already appointed for the marriage of the young couple, when their happiness was interrupted by the sudden death of Mr. Walsingham.

Henry arrived at home only to receive his father's last blessing, and his marriage being of course post-poned, he accompanied his mother on a visit to her relatives in Charleston. Here he left her, and returned to his professional pursuits, and to the society of his affianced bride.

When Mrs. Walsingham, after an absence of several months returned home, she was accompanied by a young lady, a distant relative, who had contrived to render herself so useful and agreeable, that the lonely widow found it impossible to part with her.—Weak and vain, Mrs. Walsingham was an easy dupe to any one who would be at the pains to flatter her; and Rebecca Thornton soon acquired an unlimited influence over her mind. This influence she endeavored to turn to the most profitable account; and not satisfied with securing to herself a comfortable home with her relative, she aspired to become the wife of her son. With this view she redoubled her attentions, and while she seemed to desire only the happiness of her friend, she led her by imperceptible degrees to the very point she wished.

It became the earnest decire of Mrs. Walsingham to break off the projected marriage of her son, and promote his union with her protege. This however, she found it impossible to accomplish. The idea of marrying a woman full ten years his senior seemed to Henry so absurd, that at first he could not believe his mother was serious in proposing it. When at last convinced that she was in earnest, he firmly but respectfully refused to comply with her wishes, with regard to Miss Thornton, or even to break his engagement with Rose Longford.

Aware of the weakness of his mother's character, and attributing her present conduct to what he trusted would be the short lived influence of her companion, Henry did not apprise either Mr. Longford or Rose of Mrs. Walsingham's wishes, and his marriage took place within a year after the death of his father. Soon after this event he wrote to his mother, offering her a visit, and begging that she would not attribute his conduct to any want of respect or affection for herself. This letter would have softened his parent's heart, had it not been for the baleful influence of Miss Thornton; who in addition to the mercenary and selfish motives which had originally prompted her conduct was now animated by a malignant desire to be revenged on him who had scorned her alliance. By this time she had acquired such an ascendency over the weak mind of Mrs. Walsingham that the latter was actually afraid to act without consulting her wishes, or obtaining her approval. Henry was accordingly forbidden to enter his paternal mansion, and the mother and son ceased to have the slightest intercourse with each other.

In a lofty bed-chamber, surrounded by all the appliances of wealth and luxury, lay Mrs. Walsingham, attended only by a female slave, and apparently suffering under severe illness. A slight noise was heard at the door, and the physician entered the apartment. He advanced to the bed side, felt the pulse of the patient, and after conversing a short time in a low voice, with the attendant, he left the room and descended to the parlor. Here he found Miss Thornton, whose pale and agitated countenance indicated the anxiety of her mind.

'Well, doctor,' said she, 'how do you find my poor friend?'

'Very ill ma'm, and unless she be better cared for, and my directions more strictly observed, I cannot answer for the result.

'But doctor, you do not think her disease contagious, do you?'

'I fear it is ma'am.'

Miss Thornton's pale cheek assumed a still more lived hue, and her voice trembled as she requested the physician to assist her in procuring a conveyance to a neighboring town. The doctor fixed on her a look of surprise, not unmixed with horror, as he replied.

Why ma'am, you surely would not think of leaving your friend in this situation, to the care of menials?

'Ah, my dear sir, self-preservation, you know, is our first duty. Besides, I have other friends, and I owe it to them to take care of my health.

I thought ma'am, I heard you say to Mrs. Walsingham that you had no friends in the world but her. However, I have no right to interfere with your arrangements, except so far as I deem it my duty to tell you that the life of my patient depends on the strict observance of my directions, and the doctor quitted the room, leaving Miss Thornton to manage her, departure from the infected mansion as she best could,

Dr. Bland was sitting alone in his office on the evening of the day he had visited Mrs. Walsingham, meditating on her situation, and endeavoring to devise some means of procuring that attendance which he knew to be necessary for the preservation of her life. He was an old friend of the Walsingham family, and his feelings were much interested in behalf of the desolate woman; who in the midst of an affluence, was left without a friend to minister to her necessities. It was impossible to procure a nurse; for the fever by which Mrs. Walsingham had been attacked, had spread through the neighbo hood, and created universal consternation.

The good physician was ruminating over all these discouraging circumstances, when the sound of carriage wheels arrested his attention. They stopped at his own door and he hastened to receive his visitors. They consisted of a lady and gentleman, the latter of whom was apparently well known to the worthy doctor, for he shook him heartily by the hand. After half an hour of private conversation, the gentleman departed, leaving his female companion under the charge of Dr. Bland,

When the worthy physician paid his final visit for the day at Walsingham grove, he was accompanied by a young female, whom he introduced to the domestics as a nurse who had come to take care of their mistress. He found Mrs. Walsingham much worse, indeed, in a state which forbade the indulgence of hope. Having however, established the new nurse by the bedside of his patient, and giving particular directions respecting her treatment, the doctor returned to his other patients, satisfied that let matters result as they might his had been performed.

The night was dark and stormy, and the little light which was admitted into the sick chamber, served only to make its gloom apparent. The patient toved restlessly to and fro, and it was with difficulty that the young nurse could administer the restoratives which had been prescribed.

Her soothing voice, however, seemed to have some influence with the sick woman and towards morning her restlessness abated, and she sunk into a perturbed slumber, from which she did not awake till the doctor came to pay his morning visit. He found her symptoms rather better than on the preceding evening, but she was extremely ill, and entirely bereft of reason. For more than a week she continued in this state, and during this time her devoted nurse hardly left her beside, and all the sleep she obtained was taken in a large chair, which had been placed in the room for her accommodation.—On the evening of the seventh day, the fever subsided, and Mrs. Walsingham awoke from a long sleep, weak and exhausted, indeed, but perfectly free from delirium.

'Rebecca, she said in a feeble voice, are you here? Why, who is this?' she added, as the sweet low tone of her attendant replied to her question.

'I am your nurse, and for the present you must submit to my attendance.

'But where is Rebecca? she must be ill or she would be here.

'She is not ill, and you shall see her when you are better, but dear Madam, I must not let you exhaust yourself by talking and the feeble invalid, wearied even by the slight exertion she had already made passively submitted to remain silent, and soon sunk again into a refreshing slumber When she again awoke, it was very evident that a favorable change had taken place, and the doctor, who called soon after, pronounced that a few more days of careful nursing, would place her out of danger, her recovery and however, though certain, was very slow, and weeks elapsed before she was able to leave her bed During all this time the attention of her nurse was unremitting, and the invalid grew so accustomed to her sweet voice and tender ministrations, that she could not bear her out of her sight. She still continued to inquire for Miss Thornton, but the doctor who was desirous of sparing her any agitaton, continued to evade her questions. At length she was able to sit up, and surported by the arm of her young nurse, to reach the sofa of the dressing room, which adjoined her apartment.

'It is very strange,' she said as she sat there one day' that I do not see Rebecca. She must be ill, and you conceal it from me.

'No my dear madam,' said Dr. Bland, to whom this observation was addressed she is not ill, but she has left the neighborhood.

Left the neighborhood' and whilst I was ill, impossible! You are deceiving me, doctor. My poor friend has fallen a victom to her attachment to me.

'I am not deceiving you,' answered the physician bluntly. Miss Thornton left the house as soon as she learned that your disease was contagious. It is to this young lady alone, he added, taking the hand of the far, young nurse, that you are indebted, under God, for your recovery.

To this lady, echoed Mrs. Walsingham, in astonishment, and who is she, and how shall I requit her.

'By loving me, my dear madam, by giving me a place in your affections.

'That you already have, my young friend. I feel for you all the affection of a mother and you will you will stay with me and be to me a daughter.

Oh, how gladly would I do so, but I cannot leave my husband and child.

Have you a husband and child, and left them both to come to me to incur the risk of disease and death?' What is the meaning of this—who are you?' exclaimed Mrs. Walsingham, looking wildly into the face of her attendant.

I am the wife of your son, answered Rose, sinking on her knees' will you not restore my husband to his place in his mother's heart?'

Unable to speak, Mrs. walingham could only motion her daughter-in law to rise, and clapsing her closely to her breast she sobbed out, my daughter, my beloved child!" A burst of tears relieved her oppressed heart, and she was soon able to listo the explanation which the doctor, whose benevolent spirit rejoiced ot this scheme, was ready to give.

'But why has not Henry been here?' said Mrs Walsingham, as the doctor concluded, surely he has not ceased to regard his mother, little as she may have deserved his affection.

'Oh, no, answered Rose, do not wrong him by such a suspicion; but our child demanded his care—We could not incur the risk of leaving him an orphan. and before I left my husband I obtained from him a promise that he would not venture within the reach of contagion, but would remain to watch over and protect our boy. I promised him, she added, that I would win him back his mother's heart.

'And you shall keep your promise, my sweet child, at least you shall give him as much of it as you choose to part with, for I have given it entirely up to you, said Mrs. Walsingham, as she embraced her new found daughter.

In a few days, Dr. Bland's permissions being obtained, Mrs. Walsingham accompanied her daughter on her return home, and from that time she resided with her children, finding in their society and that of her lovely grandchild, as much of happiness as in this sublunary state it is permitted us to enjoy.—Rebecca Thornton returned to her former associates in the state of single blessedness from which she so ardently desired to emerge. She made one effort to regain her place in the esteem of her former patroness, by writing her a long letter, in which she attributed her having left her during her illness, entirely to her conviction that it was her duty to preserve her own health, though in doing so she had done the utmost violence to her feelings, which would have impelled her to remain to watch over her beloved friend: Rendered wise by suffering, Mrs walsingham was not to be imposed on by this shallow sophistry, but in replying to Miss Thornton's letter, after complimenting her her on the ease with which she sacrificed feelings which most persons found it difficult to control, informed her that for the future her own views of duty would induce her to bestow her affection upon her children, and that hapily in this case, her feelings and sense of propriety were not in conflict.

WASHINGTON CITY

SATURDAY NOVEMBER 25, 1843,

NEW CLERKS OF THE LAND OFFICE — CONCLUDED.

Y. Turner Esq. (if we blood not mistake the name.) Is a young man, of fine appearance. He is tall, and well formed, with handsome rosate features, and a beautiful dark full eye, of much fire and meaning. His countenance is open, and intelligent, and bespeaks a benevolent heart, and an improved mind. His manners are modest and gentle as the zephers: and though we do not know what state he hails from, he cannot have been long in the office as his name is not on the reference-Book.

Peter H. Owen Esq. Mr. W. is a young man, of very striking appearance. He is tall, rather slender, but a finely formed figure. His face is fair, of the Grecian cast, with a deep bland forehead, impeded locks and a soft blue eye. His countenance is mild and innocent as a babe's, and has an inexpressible sweetness of mien, and betokens great goodsense, and his manners, are modest, and engaging. It strikes us he is from Ohio.

Jacob H. Hager Esq. He is likewise a young man in the bloom of life, rather under common height, with a handsome figure and one of the most facinating men in this office. His face is full, fair, and finely featured, with eyes brilliant as diamonds. In short his countenance, his manners, his fine auburn hair, and his colloquil powers, wears an irresistible charm, of which he himself seems unconscious! He is from Indiana!

Both these young gentlemen have been in office since 1840.

Capt. Henry B. Foster. Capt. F. is a recent appointment. He has a pleasing and very graceful appearance, of good height—well formed and quite a young man. His face is round, rather grecian with handsome rosaate features—a dark-eye, and dark glossy hair. His eye is meek and mild as the evening breeze; and his countenance is modest and benevolent. In his manners Capt. F. is chaste and very captivating. He is said to be from Pittsburg Pa. and the son of Hon. Wm. Foster of that place and much respected.

These were all of the Land Office, and all we were able to see: though there are said to be a few more. We see a Mr. Wm. H. Deitz, of Philadelphia marked on our tablet as a new clerk, but nothing more, than the name. Likewise a Mr. Steiger of whom we have no recollection. Doubtless all this is an oversight of our own, in our eagerness to salute our old friends, not having seen them for a long, long, time, & they are so kind to us and so thoughtful of our cares that many of them look up to us as a mother; and no sooner does Congress adjourn than they step forward and see that we want for nothing, till the return of the members (who are very generous toward us) and it is a solemn truth, that to this day, we do not know the political opinions of a single one of them!

Though we did not see the one half of our friends, it gave us most heart felt pleasure to find the good Hungerford of Va. well, and still at his post. He is the soul of honor, and his room-mate, that sweet boy! viz; Parker H. sweet, and no mistake. He would not look up ('fear we would eat him) but mark the swiftness of his pen! We never know his country.

Farther on was Dr. Frailey, with his Cæsius face, and his fine classic eyes. He is an old army officer, having met long since, in the sylvan shades of the West, and always found him a gentleman.

The Wilsons, here too, of "Auld Lang Syne." Jo. our Protege we are proud to find in his place, and still in favor, amidst all the revolutions of fortune." These two brothers, Joseph, and John, are old standbys in the Land Office, no mistake in them; and know more of it than would be safe for them to say.

We must not forget Col. Bryant by the way. But when a woman grows fidgity—thinking of home she forgets herself. Who ever has once seen the mild, interesting countenance, and manly form of Col. B. can never forget it.

Maj. Blake (not the commissioner) a highly respectable man from N. C. not long in office, and formerly referred to, is still present. Likewise Messrs Wm. Wood D. F. Henton and Wm. Nulse all fine "fellows" true and trusty.

But Messrs Dawson and French were among missing, we are sorry for this, on our own account as we shall get no Christmas Turky this year!!

THE BELLIGERENTS.

It is amusing enough to hear these two great rivals—Globe and Madisonian; both laying claim to the "Democracy army" by sections, by Towns, County, even to a man. They might as well leave it to the people of that name to say 1st. Whether they will have a master at all, or not—and if yea 2d which of the two chiefs they will prefers.

The Madisonian founds his claim to the Democracy" upon the vetoes of President Tyler. But for him the Democracy party would have gone to the shades.

Yes but says the Globe.

"He went for a distribution of all the surplus in the treasury." This, it must be confessed, had a savor which the far-smelling faculties of Federalism might have taken for the true mint."

Therefore we do not consider him as having a just claim to the "Democracy," is the argument of the Globe, so we surmise. But what do the people say? Are they not a party to this exercise of power? when did they surrender their rights to these leaders to nut and carv for them? They never did, but power is always stealing from the many to the few" and the Globe-men having tasted the sweets of power, or to speak Metephorically, having bled the people copiously during the most of their 12 years reign they thirst for it again as eagerly as the wolf does after the blood of the Lamb it has slaughtered. They are in a perfect Phrenzy.

Now we should not be surprised if the people do not veto some of those high party measures cut out for them, by these Lordly chiefs.

Suppose for instance, they would take it into there heads to think, for themselves, & to act for themselves, as they have done heretofore, and might want to have a bank, (under proper restriction) or no bank: tariff or no tariff; or just any notion that comes in to, their heads, the question is, would these two acknowledge their right to do so? This is the question now at issue. O, no, the people are knaves and fools, say they so it appears from the following resolution, passed at Albany N. Y.

"DEMOCRATIC" COMPLIMENTS TO PRESIDENT TYLER.

"Resolved, That the Democratic party, ever liberal, and just to its political opponents, awards to John Tyler deserved praise for his vetoes of bills to incorporate a Bank of the United States, but, at the same time, it never can forget that his Administration was fraudulent in its inception vacillating in its progress and profligate demoralzing in its present aspects. It is therefore, due to the purity of our faith and principals to disclaim, in the name of that great and patriotic party; all concern for, interest in, or connexion with this abortion of Federalism."—Madisonian.

After copying this from the Intelligencer. The editor says he wants to be certain of the fact that such a resolution did pass before he replies as he saw it in no Democratic paper" as to that matter there is little doubt, but it passed, and the Madisonian has yet to learn where these ultra resolution are generally concocted. Is the Editor—is a long "way" from framing the Democracy of the Globe. It is more than any one of that party, except it be Hon. Ben. F. Butler dare do, to publish anything of that nature without the knowledge of the Globe.

But both these Editorial gentlemen are planing their mutual ruin in distrusting each other. If they can not trust each other, in their professions of Democracy, how can they expect the Democracy will trust them?

There is little doubt however that the Tyler "Democracy" is viewed in a more favorable light Generally, than the Globe "Democracy" we mean the Benton—Globe Van-Buren-party. In plain English, the Despotic—the War and Dour party—because less dangerous to the rights of the people! absolute one man-power is, their object, and had it not been for the cowardly desertion of Dor civil War would probably ere this have settled the question of not "Democracy" but despotism.

We are gratified that some of the people begin to see the drift of the Globe clique, in in prefering Mr. Van Buren for the Presidency to all other "Democracy" candidates they could veto little Van when they pleased. In justice the Madisonian deserves much credit, for its independence in puting the people upon their guard against this dangerous cabal. The Globe shys it on this point.

But to the Albany resolution, we shall say a few words on this resolution anon, it contains the true BENTON course.

☞ Candidates for office in the New Congress, we publish below a proposal for speaker, of the house.

☞ We understand Hon wm. A Harris a member of the last Congress, is candidate for Clerk of the House of Representatives. He is well known to be one of best men in this, or any other country.

Speaker of the house.—Mr. Corry, in last Xenia Torch Light, speaking of the next Legislature and who will be Speaker of the House of Representatives of this State, says—"There will be an unusually large proportion of new members. We hear already most every day, the question asked, who will be the Speaker of the House? We have no hesitation in giving it as our individual opinion that, out of the whole roll of members, no better selection can be made than JOHN M. GALLAGHER, Esq, the member elect from Clark. Having served heretofore, both as Clerk of the house, and as a member, he is quite well versed in the rules of order—is a good reader—has a sound judgement, and quick perception—is, withal, a strickly honorable man, and with a little practice, would make an excellent Speaker.

That is just our opinion of Mr. Gallagher. Besides, he is gentlemanly, and urbane in his deportment, and we believe would give great satisfaction to all parties. We do not think the Whigs could make a better selection.—Exp.

☞ Some say there are fifty candidates for Door Keeper.

A NEW DOOR KEEPER, A NEW POSTMASTER are indispensable unless members wish their teeth stole out of their head. Do. eyes &c. We speak Metephorically.

☞ The last found, what had become of Mr: E, P. Howe, of the dollar demo. Ox: (Mi,) we could not imagine? and where think he was? Electioneering for Congress, and is no doubt by this time on his way to the seat of Government.

LAMBRIGHT'S GROCERY.

A gentleman by this name has for sale every variety in the Grocery line either of foreign or Domestic produce. Bacon—ham—Coffee Sugar Teas of every Kind, Best goshen butter Cheese candles. In short every thing for the sustainance of man all of the best quality and lower than can be purchased in the city.

This is all true you may save 25 to 50 per cent by dealing with Mr. G, Lambright. a Prince in his manners and honesty itself.

Mr, L. will be found on Pa. Avenue a few doors above the Depot.

THE TICKLER.

Is received—First rate paper.

☞ We hear it rumored that Mr Nimble Nonsense, Esq., is in correspondence with the Sorry-gut. as to the Editors of 'Tickler' We hope to enrich our columns with the results at which they may arrive. Tickler.

☞ What is the matter with the Dogtowners. that they are making Lawyers of their Merchants. Do they think that they can mix Vatiel & Vinegar, Buffalo and Pork, Chitty and Cheese.—Ib.

"John,' said a school-master, "you will soon be a man, and will have to do business. what, do you suppose, you will do when you have to write letters, unless you learn to spell better?" "Oh, sir, I shall put easy words in them.'

Severe on Single Gents.—The New Haven Register says:—'We can't exchange with Bachelor's Advocate, Boston, edited by an ass-ociation of bachelors, and abusive of woman kind, we don't ride in that troop, if there are fools enough in Boston to support a sheet that scandalizes their mothers and sisters, they don't deserve a change of linen, for the rest of their lives. we wager a dollar against every sound tooth in the heads of their 'associatism' that every mother's son of them are fidgety old grannies, that requires warming-pan and a dish of herb tea to compose their nerves ere they can sleep like honest married men. Old maids for sooth! why, we'd give more for an old maid's cat than for a whole regiment. That's the doctrine.

Refined enjoyment and happiness, are the fruit of well ordered and well regulated feeling, which none but snuffled minds enjoy in sweet repose.—Ib.

THE PRINTER AND THE DUTCHMAN.

A journeyman printer lately set out on foot for the interior of Ohio, a distance of five hundred miles, with an old brass rule and three dollars cash in his pocket. He soon found himself in Pennsylvania, and being weary called at an inn of a Dutchman, whom he found quietly smoking his pipe when the following dialogue ensued:

'Vell, Mr. Talking Shick, vat you vant,'

'Refreshment and repose.'

'Supper and lagings, I tink so?'

'Pe you a Yanke peddler, mit chewelry in pack to cheat the gal?'

'No, sir, no Yankee peddler.'

'A singing teacher, too lazy to vork?'

'No sir?'

'A shentrell Joinmaker, vot stay days till Saturday night, and, layds drunk in de purch after Sunday?'

'No, sir, or I should have mended my boots before this. But I am not disposed longer to submit to this outlandish inquisition. Can you give me supper and lodging.

"I shore y. But vot be you? A book scheut taking honest people's money for a little larnin' that only makes em lazy?"

'Try again, your worship.'

'A dentist, breaking to people chaws at a toller a schnag, and running off mit old Schanbock's daughter?'

'No sir, no too h pulle.'

'Kenologua, den feeling to young folks heds like so many cabbiges, charging 25 cents for telling their fortunes, like a blamed Yankee.'

"No, no, phrenologist, neither, your Excellency.'

'Vel den, vot de ifle are you? Choost tell and you shall have some of de best sassage for supper, and stay all night free gratis, mitout charging you a cent. mit a chill of whiskey to start on before breakfast.

HELP TO PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS.—Being a series of calculations, showing the quantity of paper required for any given number of signatures in bookwork, and the number of tokens embraced therein carried out to an extent embracing the largest jobs. Also, containing similar tables for job work bills, labels, duplicates of bookwork, &c. Samuel N. Dickinson, 1 volume, of 240 pages price due one 91 dollars twenty-five cents.

TAYLOR

• Note, Dorr was a perfect dupe of this party. Do Canada patriots.

THE WARRIOR.

BY AUGUSTUS SNODGRASS.

WHEN of old the daring Knight
Sought the foe on battle-field,
Firm he donned his armor bright—
Seized the spear and raised the shield,

Hurling arrows filled the air;
Lances shiv'ring flew around;
Old and young, and brave and fair,
Bleeding Sought the purple ground!

Foremost in the battling crowd,
Speeds the steel-clad warrior by;
Rings the clamor wild and loud,
Thicker still the arrows fly.

On his breast the lances shiver—
Fast their swords the foemen wield,
And the arrows, broken, quiver,
Falling, harmless, from his shield!

Thus may'st thou an image find,
Leaning on Life's battle-field,
Armor round thy limbs to bind,
Seizing firm a trusty shield,

Man an errant warrior is,
Death-ward fighting bold his way
Rocks among, and Wilderness,
Or where pleasant valleys lay!

Wouldst thou ever victor be,
O'er thy self, and o'er the world,
Press thou onward valiantly,
Where the lance and dart are hurled!

Bind thy limbs in armor sure;
View with care the battle-field;
Form thy soul by watching pure,
Seize a bright and trusty shield!

Then in vain shall arrows fly;
Spears shall shiver on thy breast;
With a bright, unflinching eye,
May'st thou win the warrior's rest!

Norwich, N. Y.

☞ Cincinnati clergymen are like their hogs, in regard to their yearly stipends—for hogs love to be in a stye-pened-ary enjoyment as well as their betters—says Ephraim Esq.

A schoolboy, coming one day to that celebrated line of Pope—'A little learning is a dangerous thing,' read it, 'A little lawyer is a dangerous thing.'

GOOD.—Not only the wild birds but our domestic poultry, are occasionally heard to make som very significant remarks. It is a remarkable fact that the common ducks invariably call out "quack, quack, quack!" whenever a doctor's sulky passes by their flock. But the most extraordinary of all the speeches of the feathered tribe is that of chanticleer, which may be regarded as deciding a controversy that has been long waged in the civilized community. Old chanticleer awakes in the morning, flaps his wings, and vociferates at the top of his voice,

"Women rule h-e-r-e!"

Immediately, from a neighboring roost, another answers:

"So they do h-e-r-e!"

This is no sooner uttered than a third responds at a considerable distance,

"So they do every w h-e-r-e!"

THE SCOTCHMAN'S PRAYER.—Keep my purse from the lawyer—and my body from the doctor—and my soul from the devil.

A handsome young widow applied to a physician, to relieve her of three distressing complaints, with which she was afflicted.

"In the first place said she "I have a little or no appetite. What shall I take for that Doctor.

For that Ma'am, you should take air and exercise."

"And docter, I'm quit fidgity at night, and am afraid to lie alone.—what shall I ake for that?"

"For that Madam, you have besides taking air, exercise and a husband, to take —the newspapers."

(Sensible Doator that!

Vicksburg Sentinel.

Absence of Mind.—The early symptons of insanity in Mr. Egene Mortimer Trapps were the following: Upon one occasion, he boiled his umbrella, and at dinner time asked if the greens were done. he once seated himself on the kitchen fire with his lap full of coals, and asked the cook for the bellows to blow up the wood, so as to make the kettle boil and have tea early;

A large farm, without skill, capital, or industry, is a plague to its owner. It is like what somebody said of self-righteousness, the more you have of it the worse you are off.—Ib.

PRIVATE EDUCATION.

TWENTY years have elapsed since I commenced the instruction of youth, and I cannot but feel grateful for the patronage which has been extended to me during that period. The great measure which it gives me to implant the seeds of virtue and knowledge, renders this one of the most delightful periods of my life.

In the training of youth the great point are, to form the character for virtue and usefulness: to give them habits of regular and close application, and pleasing and agreeable manners. In order to accomplish these desirable objects, all my pupils reside under my roof, eat at the same table with my family, of which they form a part—than none others are admitted. Thus constant way ought into contact with me, the discipline of each is strict and firm, yet parental, partakes, uble early as may be, of the private, uniting with mtn some degree the benefit of public instruction, and is addressed to the hearts and good sense of my pupils where practicable, rather than to their fears, No pupil is admitted for a shorter period than ten months, unless by special agreement. The number admitted will in no case exceed 15 or 16, and none over fourteen years, unless previously members of my family, except under extraordinary circumstances—

None are permitted to ramble at large, and all are required to conform to the regulations, which are methodical, and agreeable to such as are virtuously disposed.

Having removed to a large and commodious establishment, remote and retired from the dense population, on the margin of the city of Washington, next to Georgetown, D. C, My Seminary will be open for the admission of youths on the 1st of October, and close on the 1st of August following.

The course of instruction is liberal, intended to prepare young gentlemen for a judicious entrance into college, and seminaries of higher grade The subjects taugh are English, Eaten, French. Composition, Cival History, the elements of Geometry, Geography, the Globes, and book-keeping.

The charge for the schodastic year (ten months,) is $200, payable half yearly in advance. This in cludes tuition in the above branches, board, mattress, bedding, towels, fire, candles, washing, mending and pew-rent.

Books, Stationery, Docter's bill, and branche of education not embraced in the above, such as other languages' music &c. will be separat charges. In these, competent teachers will be employed, when desired.

NEW GUIDE TO WASHINGTON!

By G. Watterston, Esq—The above work just published, with a frontispiece of the Statue of Washington by Greenough, and contains every thing relating to the history of Washington, and its progress and improvement since its origin to the citizen and stranger, and is a perfect guide to all its object of curiosity, and to every thing that a stranger would be desirous to make himself acquainted with, while a sojourner in it, or a resident abroad. Gives a true picture of Washington, though not a mere picture book—half its institutions, works of art, &c., are briefly but satisfactorily described. It sketches its usages customs manners, and religious and moral tone of its society—public buildings, literary, social, and other institutions—its location, the condition of the legal and medical professions, its growth and character o its resident population—gives an abstract of its municipal regulations, civi and criminal courts—duties of the principal executive officers of the General Government, of the committees of Congress, and a great variety of useful, local, and general information which a resident as well as a stranger would be pleased to possess. Among the descriptions of the societies which have been organized in Washington, are two at considerable length, and of great interest—one, of the National Institution, and the other, the Society of Odd Fellows.

The work is printed in a neat and handsome style, of over 200 pages, and for sale at the book-store of R. FARNHAM, corner of 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue.

TO SUIT THE TIMES—TOBACCO CIGARS, SNUFF, WHOLESALE

And retail—The subscriber respectfully informs his friends, and the public generally, that he has commenced the above business at No. 6. east of Gadsby's Hotel. Having an experience of four or five years, and a thorough practical knowledge of the manufacture of Tobacco in all its varieties, it may confidently be expected that he will keep constantly on hand the most excellent articles. (and at uncommon low prices too,) in the Tobacco line, imported into this country. He hopes, by a devotedness to his business, to meet with encouragement from a generous public, whom it will be his greatest, desire to please. He has now in store, and for sale, the following choice brands of Tobacco, Cigars, and Snuff;

CIGAR.

Regalia	Principe Pereza
Reformera	Principe Delgad
Imperial	Principe Mellin
Cazadores	Havana Legitimo
Rifle	Trabacos Superior
Industry	Canonas
Havana Lallor	La Nooma

Also Cigars of every variety extant.

CHEWING TOBACCO.

Bridges's Diamond	Jesse Hare's sun cured
Russell & Robertsens	Wright's
Nolsey's	old Chog Small Lump of v. bds.

SNUFFS.

President's Mixture	Rappee
Macaboy	Natchitoches
Congress	snuff Boxes of b.

N. B. The undersigned will do busines on the cash system, and consequently will be able to furnish goods at least 25 per cent. cheaper than any other establishment in the District. All goods sold by the subscriber aswarranted can be returned if not found to be what it represented. M. WINTER.

GREAT ENLARGEMENT.

Of the Philadelphia saturday courier!
gest circulation in the world.
anew and splendid suit of type!
New and capacious printing Machine!
A new tale by the author of the mob cap!
A new tale by Mrs. Hale editor of the lady book!
A new series of domestic tales by T. s. Arthur esq.
A new American tale of the Florida Wa
A new Irish tale by Dr. James Mcheny.
An American Portrait gallery Gems of American and european art!
A regular series of American Poems
A new series of tales by W. H. Herbert esq
A new genes of practical essays oseriology
A rich array of contributors!
altogether forming
The greatest Newspaper enterprise of the age!!

The proprietors of this time honoured an universally popular family newspaper announce under this head we shall give Engraving he distinguished Naval and Military Commanders, and other eminent individuals of our country, accompanied with interesting Biographies of them. They will be alternated with copies of gems of American and European Masters, to present our own genius readers with the best positions of the fine Ar

REGULAR CONTRIBUTION

Mrs. C. Lee Hentz,	Henry W. Herbert Esq
Prof. Ingrahame,	'Lady of Maryland,'
Prof. J. Frost,	Mrs. Seba Smith,
T. S. Arthur Esq,	Dr. James M'Henry, &
Mrs. S. J. Hale,

GENERAL CONTRIBUTION,

J. Sheridan Knowles,	M. M'Michal
Dr. R. M. Bird,	Mary Russell
Jos. C. Neal,	Miss Ellen S. R
W. Gilmore Simms,	Maria Edgeworth
Douglass Jerrold,	Geo. P. Morris
N. P. Willis,	Hon Mrs. norton,
Miss Sedwick,	Mrs. Gore
Prof. A. D. Bache,	Robert Morris
Wm. E. Burton,	J. R. Chandler,
Mrs. E. F. ellet,	Dr. J. K. Mitche

The forthcoming volumes of the Courier w contain more volumin usity than hitherto, original and selected tales, narratives, essays nd Biographies, and articles in Literature, Science the Arts, Mechanics, Agriculture, Education, Music, News, Health, Amusement, a in fact, in every department usually discussed in a universal Family Newspaper, from such as writers.

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL for YOUNG GENTLEMEN.—The subscribers having been induced to believe that, notwithstanding the numerous schools now in the city, a scholastic institue, which should offer to young gentlemen peculiar advantages for acquiring a knowledge at once sound and practical of the Latin, Greek, French, and Spanish languages, and whose advantages for instruccion in Mathematics and Belles Lettres, should the in and encouragement, have resolved to unite their ene-gies ond abilities in an effort to establish in Washington such an institution'

Of their qualificaitons for the complishment of such an enterprise, and of their competency to conduct a school of this character in all its departments, they would prefer that parents should judge from actual experiment and personal observation, rather than from any description of their own. To induce parents, then, to intrust to their care, for a limited time, their sons, or wards, with a view to the experiment alluded to, they have published a prospectus embracing a full view of their mode of instruction and discipline, of the course of studies to be pursued, and containing terms, testimonials.

To this prospectus, copies of which may be procured at Mr. Farnham's book store, they respectfully call the attention of parents, and beg leave only to state that period of nearly twenty years has elapsed since they completed their studies at their respective universities, and entered upon the duties of that profession in the practice o which they have been constantly engaged; that this office was originally assumed by them, not as a temporary measure, nor as a means of support while waiting or preparing for some other station, nor as a last resort after a failure in other projects or pursuits, but as their first and unbiassed choice: that it has since been adopted neither because it presented to them fairer prospects for fame or emoluments than other vocations to which they have devoted theirtalents and acquirements, but simply because they prefered this profession to any othe

ARNOLD. D. C
A. N GIRAULT, A,—
Washington, D. C, August 3, 18

A CARD.—The undersigned having unde the firm of Johnson & Callan, opened an offic of General Agency for the negotiation and transaction of such business as may be confided to them in this city, beg leave to offer to their friends and to the public their services in the sale or purchase of all kinds of real and personal property, corporation, bank, insurance, and other stocks, negotiation of claims and investment of money, collections of claims upon the several departments of Governments, rents and dividends, bond bills and notes from abroad, payment of taxes for non-residents, settlement of estates, executing the duties of trustees, &c. &c. for a fair and reasonable to commission-their office, on F street, a few doors east of Messrs Corcoran & Riggs, where they may always be found during business hours.

The undersigned feel happy in the belief that to these who know, or who ever have known them, it unnecessary to their business will conducted upon principles of the strictest propriety in all respects, and that all moneys passing through their hands will be promptly remitted, or otherwise disposed of according instructions.

LEWIS JOHNSON.
N CALLAN, Jr

A New Enterprise.

By the former editor of the Saturday Evening Post and Saturday Courier Comparing the fruits of twenty years experience in the Newspaper business, the aid of the most distinguished newspaper writers to the, a valuable Foreign Correspondence; with troops of Literary friends and the determination to publish a Newspaper for all classes; which shall not be surprised. philadelphia saturday Family newspaper, neutral in politics opposed to quackery and devoted to the useful Arts, Education Morals, Health and Amusement.

The tale, Sketches Narratives Biographies, Essays, and Poems, shall be of the first order—the better productions of the best writers of the day. Also, articles on History. Astronomy, Chemistry, and all the useful arts and Sciences, with a liberal portions of light reading, anecdotes, wit and making a varied, rich mirth supposing Ohio.

PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY MUSEUM.

SELECT AND ORIGINAL GEMS FROM.

Miss Leslie,	— Mr. Arthur,
Mrs. Sigourney,	— Mr. Irving,
Miss. Sedgwick,	— Mr. Cooper,
Mrs. Hale,	Mr. Morris,
Mrs. Stephens	— Mr. Chandler
Mrs. Loud	— Mr. Dr. Bird.
Miss H. Gould,	— &c. &c. &c.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR.

At an early period, will be announced the offer of One thousand dollars, which the Proprietors intend awarding premiums for the best priterary Production, Instructive Stories, Touching and Affecting Descriptions, Essays, Poems, &c., in order to enlist the strongest array of the best Native Talent in favor of this great Literary Enterprise. It being, in fact the determination of the proprietor, to leave nothing undone, and to spare no pains, exertions, or expense.

Every subscriber to this paper will receive a copy of Clarke's American Pocket Library, noticed below, without charge, thus rendering the Saturday Museum the most desirable, the most attractive, and the cheapest Family Newspaper that has ever been published, in the United States.

TO AGENT TERMS COMMISSIONS &c. Any individual who will take the trouble to procure the names of his frinds, and remit the funds, will be entitled to the commissions which are at present, and will continue to be, until further notice, more liberal by far than have yet been offered by any Newspaper of real character or merit. A commission of 20 cents will, for the present, be allowed to Agents upon each subscriber.

TERMS.—The Philadelphia Saturday Museum is published every week at two dollars per annum, as usual, in advance or 3 dollars at the end of the year.

For 20, dollars in current funds, 10 copies of the Newspaper, will be forwarded, securely packed, to any part of the United States. 5 copies for 5. Dollars. All orders and communication to be addressed free of postage, to

THOS. C. CLARKE & CO.
Saturday Museum,
No 101 Chestnut street, Philadelphia—

We shall be glad to exchange with newspapers will oblige us by copying the abo ve.

MISSOURI CURRENT RIVER COPPER MINES.

SHANNON COUNTY, MISSOURI.

WOULD now ask the attention of capitalist to these Copper Mines, rice in are, yielding from 40 to 66 per cent. of copper, which, by at single process of smelting, is equal to the South American refined pig—so pronounced by Messrs McKim & Co., of Baltimore, to whom several shipments were made by the "Mine a la Motte Mining Company." Situated near the junction of Jack's Fork and the Current river, within yards mile of either stream and near water-power for all manufacturing purposes, and under a sunny clime in the vicinity of agricultural lands equal to the best in Missouri: surrounded by hills bearing inexaustible forests, and rising to mountains whence flow pure and never failing springs forming navigation six months in the year.—Nature with a profuse ende seems to have omitted but facilities for manufacturing and transporting the product of the copper mines. Believing this property to all the vast and fertile Mississippi vally may be made the most safe and profitable investment of capital, will propose a disposition of important (by sale or otherwise,) on liberty of terms, by which to enlit the agney of all pitalists, and make it proucative.

Mers may obtain mining lots, by applica you to S. Chilton at the mines?

To The above described mines, since the Pear 18 37, have been held, in a measure, unproductive by conflicting claims. I first located confirmed spanish grants on them, which James Whitcomb, then Commissioner, decided were not confirmed. I then acquired title under Mr. James Thompson who he shown by lofating preemption right said company, both of whom base villains are convicted by the fact of bribery and perjury on which alone was set at naught by Whitcomb who was successful in the change of Commissioners an investigation was had and my title confirmed: see report of Conel. T. J. Allen register of the land office and the decision of the General land Office as published in the Globe November 7th 1842 also decision of the Hon. Mr. Forward secr the treasury confirming Comm.

FARMERS' HOTEL.—Corner of eight & D streets, Washington, By Owen Connolly. Good accommodations for One Hundred head of Horses.

AMERICAN POCKET LIBRARY OF USEFUL KNOWLEDGE WITH ENGRAVINGS.

thousand Receipts, Direct- Agriculture and successfu Hooding. Health, its preservation; the culture wildflowers, Silk, Sugar Beets, &c., treatment thes Horse Birds, and Stock generally—Pe ew Bees, &c. The management of the Hair Cycs, and preservation of the Teeth, with in rections for the ladies in cooking, preserving liseing—making ice creams, healthy drinks otya Canals, Railroads, Phrenology, sine of holding Elections, Qualifications of Vo ers, and an immense amount of Political, articles, Geographical, and General Informa tion, relating to the General Government, and the various States and Territories of the United States full returns of the last census, population. at, sources, &c. of each State—Girard's Will Washington's Farewell Address, Tables of Distances between all Cities, Gold and Silver Coins, and Weights and Measures of al Nations, Laws of Naturalization, Patent Rights and the Constitution of the United States, to gether with the Amendments, &c.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

United States Gazette.

There is no subject which comes into notice in the daily walks of life, bnt what is here laid down familiarly illustrated. The object of the compiler has been to make his book a COMPLETE VADE MECUM, and in this he has succeeded.

From the Pennsylvania Inquirer & Courier: A capital little volume, replete with informa- gleaned from a thousand sources, and of the most AUTHENTIC CHARACTER: The price 50 cents) is exceedingly reasonable;

From the Saturday Chronicle,

We have never seen a volume of the same size embracing any thing like the quanity of useful matter. The work is really a treasure and should speedily find its way into every family.

Many editions have already been sold: For five dollars enclosed to the publisher, THOMAS C. CLARK, fifteen copies, in flexible covers, will be securely packed and forwarded by mail to any part of the United States, or two copies for one dollar. Address, post poid,

THOS. C. CLARK

101 Chesnut street, Philadelphia.

$100 REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND.

For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from urethe of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure when it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon: when for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure and safe cure, composed solely of vegetable substance. One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

☞ For sale in Washington city, by Rober Patterson, corner 9th and the Avenue and Charles C. Stott, corner of 7th street, and the avenue—and by H. Wade on 7th street, and by J. & W. Young jr.

In Georgetown by John L. Kidwell.

STEAMBOAT HOTEL,

The subscriber having taken the large and commodious Hotel on Seventh street, one doo from the corner of Pennsylvania Avenue, facing Centre Market, formerly occupied by John Lloyd, Esq.

Of this long established house, for convenience and comfortable apartments, little need be said. The subscriber, also long known to the Public, is prepared to accommodate boarders and travellers at the shortest notice. His table is plentifully furnished with the best the market affords, prepared by experienced cooks, and attentive servants.

His bar is furnished equal to any in the United States.

JAMES P. GANNON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN'S PLAIN AND FANCY SHOE STORE

Manufactured by James Jack.

The undersigned has opened a cheap and fashionable Shoe Store, on penn. Avenu, nearly opposite Brown's Hotel, between Sixth and Seventh streets, where he will always keep on hand, an assortment of Lady's and manufacture and materials, and of the most fashionable style. Among which are.

MEN'S fine seal, Morocco, and calf boots
Do grain, Calf and Kip welted, do.
Do coarse thick do.
Do Brogans and Monroe do.
Do pumps and Calf shoes
BOYS' Boots, Brogans, and dress shoes.
LADIES AND MISSES fine Calf, Seal, and Morocco walking do.
Do Do fine Kid and Gaiters.

Allof which the undersigned will sell chea

Apply as above. JAMES H BIRCH

MEDICAL STATISTICS OF THE U. S. ARMY.

Statistical reports on the sickness and mortality of the Army of the United States, compiled from the records of the Surgeon general's and Adjutant generals Offices, embracing a period of twenty years from January, 1819 to January, 1839. Prepared under the directions of Thomas Lauson. D., Surgeo, General U. S. Army. 1 vol. octavo, with map; price one dollar—a few copies for sale by,

sep 14 d. F; TAYLOR

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

DOLLAR WEEKLY ADVOCATE.

THE proprietor of the "Georgetown Advocate, will issue, on Saturday, the 29th of April,

WEEKLY ADVOCATE.

At the very unprecedented low price of One Dollar per annum.

It will contain all the principal matter of the Tri-weekly Advocate, and will constitute a valuable paper for country residents—Professisonal men, Farmers, Mechanics, and private families.

NOTICE TO WESTERN TRAVELLERS.

Travellers are hereby notified that they can procure seat for Wheeling or Pittsburg, by applying to the conductors at the Washington Railroad cars, which will entitle them to precedence upon their arrival at Hancock over all other way-passengers.

Passengers wishing to proceed direct to the West will take the morning train of cars from Washington at 6 o'clock for the Relay House where they can breakfast, and take the Western train for Hancock immediately afterwards.

For further information apply to Mr. STETTINIUS, Agent Balt. and Wash. Rondraod.

MICHAEL McDERMOTT wishes to inform his customers and the Public in general that he still continues to carry on the COACH MAKING BUSINESS, in all its branches on Penn, avenue between Third and Four-and a-half streets, where he keeps constantly on hand for sale Family Carriages, Barouches, Vehicles, Buggies, Sulkies, Gigs, Carryalls, &c. made of the best materials and by selected workmen. He hopes by a strict attention to business, to receive a share of public patronage.

HENRY CLAY;

A new and popular life of Henry Clay; with a Superb full length Engraving representing Mr. Clay in his studio at Ashland has been published in a single extra number of the new world, and will be furnished to subscribers, to clubs at the exceedingly low price at 5 dollars a hundred or 40 dollars for a thousand copies. Copies will be sent by mail to any part of the country on the following terms: sixteen copies for one dollar, and fifty copies for 3 dollars, Address.

J. Winchester, publisher of the New World, 30 Ann street, N. York;

PERSEVERANCE COFFEE HOUSE.

THE subscriber having taken the PERSEVERANCE COFFEE HOUSE, formerly occupied by John Hancock, a few doors south corner of 6th street and Pennsylvania Avenue, begs leave to inform the Public that his Bar is furnished with as good Spirituous Liquors Wine Porter Ale and Cider as in any other establish Leent in the city—and he intends keeping an instant supply of the best Oysters cook- keovery way and for private families.

WILLIAM BENTER.

THE METROPOLIS,

Pennsylvania avenue, between 3d and 4 1-2 Sts.

GRATEFUL for the liberal and unprecedented patronage bestowed on this Establishment the undersigned takes this opportunity of assuring his friends and the public that no effort will be spared on his part to disserve its continuance. His Bar is furnished with the choice st Wines and Liquors that can be obtained, and his Larder exhibits all the choicest varieties of the market, His servants having been regularly trained to their business, will be found polite and attentive to all orders. Connected with the establishment, are two private Parlors, where dinners, suppers, &c. can be served up at the shortest notice. He keeps on hand, during the season, Terrapins, Canvass Back Ducks, Partridges, Venison, and, in fact, every delicacy. The various kinds of fancy beverages, such as Julaps, Cobblers, &c. are served up in a new and improved style: Sigars, of the choicest brands, and the best Cavindish tobacco, are kept for the accomodation of customers

25 tf ANDREW JINKINS.

THE HUMAN HAIR is warranted staid or restored, and the head kept free from Dand ruff, by the genuine Oldrige's Balm of Columbia.

Remember the genuine as described below.

This is certified to by several Mayors, Ministers of the Gospel. British Consuls Physician and a great number of our most honorable citi

DARING FRAUD.—This article. itated by a notorious counterfeiter. Let it never be purchased or used unless it have the name of L. COMSTOCK, or the signature of COMSTOCK & CO. on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the Public from deception.

Apply at the wholesale and retail office No 2 Fletcher street, near Maiden Lane and Pearl street New York,

---

The Halls of Congress, and of the Courts of the United States, the Patent Office and National Institute, and other public buildings, the Navy Yard, the Canal of the chesapeake and the of architecture the statues and painting of remarkable men and events, and the assemblage of distinguished men at the seat of the national Government, are objects which will present fine opportunities to expand the mind and elevate the character, Occasional visits to these, under special permission, accompanied and preceded by proper explanations, will obviously have a most salutary influeuce.

Direct to me at Georgetown, D. C.

WM. BRENT Jr.

August 25th, 1843.

TO SUIT THE TIMES—TOBACCO CIGARS, SNUFF, WHOLESALE

And retail.—The subscriber respectfully informs his friends, and the public generally, that he has commenced the above business at No. 6. east of Gadsby's Hotel. Having an experience of four or five years, and a thorough practical knowledge of the manufacture of Tobacco in all its varieties, it may confidently be expected that he will keep constantly on hand the most excellent articles, (and at uncommon low prices too,) in the Tobacco line, imported into this country. He hopes, by a devotedness to his business, to meet with encouragement from a generous public, whom it will be his greatest, desire to please. He has now in store, and for sale, the following choice brands of Tobacco, Cigars, and Snuff;

CIGAR.

Regalia	Principe Pereza
Reformera	Principe Delgad
Imperial	Principe Mellin
Cazadores	Havana Legitmo
Rifle	Trabacos Superios
Industry	Canonas
Havana Laflor	La Nouma

Also Cigars of every variety extant.

CHEWING TOBACCO.

Bridges's Diamond Jesse Hare's sun curred
Russell & Robertsons Wright's
Nolsey's old Chog Small Lump of v. bds,

SNUFFS.

President's Mixture	Rappee
Macaboy	Natchitoches
Congress	snuff Boxes of b.

N. B. The undersigned will do busines on the cash system, and consequently will be able to furnish goods at least 95 per cent. cheap per than any other establishment in the District. All goods sold by the subscriber aswarranted can be returned if not found to be what it is represented. W. H. WINTER.

NOTICE TO WESTERN TRAVELLERS

FARE 2 dollars cheaper than any other line Frederick and Wheeling.

The Fredericktown stage leaves the office opposite Gadsby's Hotel, daily, for Frederick and Wheeling. Passengers securing their seats at this place or in Baltimore, have a decided preference over all other passengers that steam it, for this reason.

The stage will leave Fredericktown daily on the arrival of the Western stages, and arrive at Washington in time to take all Southern routes. by this line the passengers will arrive at Winchester the same day.

The coaches and teams on this route are of the first quality, with skiltul and attentive drivers, and the proprietor pledges himself that every attention and accommodation will be given to the passengers who give this line their patronage.

fes 19 JOHN BROWN Proprietor.

A CARD:—The undersigned having unde the firm of Johnson & Callan, opened an offic of General Agency for the negotiation and transaction of such business as may be confided to them in this city, beg leave to offer to their friends and to the public their services in the sale or purchase of all kinds of real and personal property, corporation, bank, insurance, and other stocks, negotiation of claims and investment of money, collections of claims upon the several departments of Governments, rents and dividends, bond bills and notes from abroad, payment of taxes for non-residents, settlement of estates, executing the duties of trustees, &c. for a fair and resonable to commission- their office, on F street, a few doors east of Messrs Corcoran & Riggs, where thay may always be found during business hours.

The undersigned feel happy in the belief that to those who know, or who ever have know them, it unnecessary to their business will conducted upon principles of the strictest property in all respects, and that all moneys passin hrough their hands will be promptly remitte. ionother wise disposed of accoording instruc cons.

LEWIS JOHNSON.
N CALLAN, Jr

NEW GUIDE TO WASHINGTON.

By G. Watterston, Esq—The above work just published, with a frontispiece of the Satue of Washington by Greenough, and contains every thing relating to the history of Washington, and its progress and improvement since its origin to the citizen and stranger, and is a perfect guide to all its object of curiosity, and to every thing that a stranger would be desirous to make himself acquainted with, while a sojourner in it, or a resident abroad. Gives a true picture of Washington, though not a mere picture book—half its institutions, works of art, &c., are briefly but satisfactorily described. It sketches its usages customs manners, and religious and moral tone of its society—public buildings, literary, social, and other institutions—its location, the condition of the legal and medical professions, its growth and character o its resident population—gives an abstract of its municipal regulations, civi and criminal courts—duties of the principal executive officers of the General Government, of the committees of Congress, and a great variety of useful, local, and general information which a resident as well as a stranger would be pleased to possess. Among the descriptions of the societies which have been organized in Washington, are two at considerable length, and of great interest—one, of the National Institution, and the other the Society of Odd Fellows.

The work is printed in a neat and handsome style, of over 200 pages, and for sale at the book-store of R. FARNHAM, corner of 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue.

FARMERS' HOTEL.—Corner of eight & D streets, Washington; By Owen Connolly. Good accommodations for One Hundred head of Horses.

PROSPECTUS

For publishing at the city of Washington, a paper, entitled

THE CLARION,

Devoted to the Cause of the People, by WM. GREER.

FOR PRESIDENT—R. M. JOHNSON.
FOR V. PRESIDENT—LEVI WOODBURY

Entertaining as we do, the highest respect and most exalted confidence in LEVI WOODBURY, of New Hampshire, we, in obedience to the vote of the New York Convention, inscribe his name upon our banner for Vice President of the united States.—With the names of two such champions for our watchword we feel confident that Victory will be ours. In the name of the People we conquer.

The CLARION will contain a weekly summary of news, and of such other miscellaneous matter as will render it both entertaining and useful. It will be issued weekly and if it shall meet with sufficient patronage to justify the undertaking, it will be published more frequnetly. Having already the promise of very extensive circulation, it will be a useful vehicle for divertisements.

Terms:—Two dollars 50 per annum—payable in advance. Washington, April, 1843.

SHERWOOD FOR CHRONIC DISEASE

Of the class of Hypetrophy, including the forms of Scrofula, viz: Tubercula Consumption, Dyspepsia, Chronic Disease of the Liver of the Heart of the Spleen, of the Kidneys, of the Spine, White Swellings, Scrofulous Sore Eyes, Scaid Head, King's Evil Leucorrhœa Chlorosis, Menorrhagia or Females complaints.

These are but different modifications of the same disease, arising from the same cause, distinguished by the same diagnosis, and curable by the same remedies. Their common cause is an irregulat action of the Electro-Galvanic forces in the system—they may all be detected by presure upon the sides of the vertebra and glands of the neck which elicits the Electro magnetic remedies: The latter are accompanied by a compendious medical treatise, explaining the principles of the discovery upon which they are founded, stating the manner in which they are to be applied. In this work Dr. Sherwood demonstrates the fact that every part of the human body, together with every partical of animate and inanimate matter either in negeative or positive state of electro and that every motion, in all matter, whether in the this universal principle. The morbid acaf which produces disease of the organs or limbs seems to be occasioned by the undue preponderance of one of these forces in the system are his remedies restore health by subduing this irregular action to an equilibrium. By this means the very seeds of the disease are eradicated, and a permanent cure effected. even cases where all hope of relief from other sources is abandoned. The Electro-Magnetic remedies are the only preparations applicable to this prevailing class of diseases and they never disappoint the confidence reposed in them, theye symptoms of the class of diseases twhich theeare applicable can be discovered under thri, directions contained in the work which accompanies it, without the aid of a physician, and can be used with perfect safety and success without dieting or inconvenience.

FRESH GARDEN AND FLOWER SEEDS,

For sale, Wholesale and Retail, at

J. F. CALLAN'S

Drug Store, Corner of E and 7

WASHINGTON CITY:

Among which may be found the following Artichoke, Asparagus, Beans, various kinds, Beets, every variety; Brussels Sprouts, Broccoli, Collards, Cabbage, many sorts, Carrots do. do. Cauliflowers, late and early, Celery white and red, Chervil, or Salad, Corn Salad Cress or Pepper Grass; Cucumber, late and early; Corn, early, prolific, and sweet; Egg Plant, white and purple; Endive Curled, Kale all the best sorts; Melons and Cantelopes—Nasturtium; Okra, excellent for Soups; Unions, white, red and silver, Parsley, plain and curled; Parsnip, large, Peas, extra early, and late, Pepper, Squash and other, Pumpkins, uremium, Radishes, many sorts, Rhubarb for Tarts Salsify or Vegetable Oyster—Spinage found and quickly—Squash, every variety, Tomato, the finest kind; Turnip, all the best sorts, Onion Sets, &c. &c.

Splendid Flower seeds, Bulbous Roots Dahlias, &c. &c.

☞ These seeds are put up in small and convenient parcels, and are warranted true and genuine. The Roots, (particularly the Dahlias, are of the most beautiful description, comprising all the varieties, and will be sold at the new York prices.

ACCOMMODATION.

On and after Monday next, the 11th instan the hours of departure of the steamboat PHENIX will until further notice be as follows, viz:

Leave Alexandria at 8, 10, half, past 2 and half past 4, o'clock, for Washington.

Leave Washington at 9, 11; half, past 3, and half past 5 o'clock, for Alexandria.

Leave Alexandria for Georgetown at 12 o'clock.

Leave Georgetwn for Alexandria at 1 o'cloc,

8—p JAMES GUY Jr. Captain.

HELP TO PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS.—Being a series of calculations, showing the quantity of paper required for any given number of signatures in bookwork, and the number of tokens embraced therein; carried out to an extent embracing the largest jobs Also, containing similar tables for job work bills, labels, duplicates of bookwork, &c. Samuel N. Dickinson, 1 volume, of 240 pages price due one 91-dollar, twenty-five cents.

TAYLOR